

Memorial School Virtual Learning Day

The term “Virtual Learning Day” refers to a school day when instead of coming to a school building teachers and students communicate and engage in learning activities online through ThinkCentral, ReadWorks, LinkIt, Seesaw, Email, or other learning platforms. Teachers share assignments and hold virtual office hours while students’ complete assignments and activities while receiving guidance from teachers. Assignments will be posted on Memorial School’s virtual book bag. All subjects will have assignments posted for each day of virtual learning.

Virtual Learning Days are a great transition step to the digital world that is used every day and gives students the skills to work and learn online. During these days, our teachers are still actively engaged with students, directing and overseeing their work.

The Virtual Learning Day is intended to do help prepare students for their future.

- More and more careers create opportunities where workers need to learn the self-discipline to complete required work from home or offsite.
- We realize Virtual Learning Day will help students begin to understand the experience of digital learning.
- Virtual Learning Day will also help younger students understand the possibilities they may have at the secondary level.
- Working in an online environment is going to be a way of the 21st Century. We are hoping to work with students and help them gain skills to be successful in this world.

Purpose:

- To continue providing meaningful learning with an innovative solution for all students on inclement weather, or emergency closing days.
- Maximize our 1:1 technology.
- Allow our students the opportunity to practice the kind of online learning that is increasingly part of high school, college and the workplace.

Expectations:

- Lessons will be online or will be provided in paper/pencil format. Lessons will be specific to grade level and core subject standards.
- Teachers will post their lessons on online platforms, along with paper copies when necessary.
- Teachers can be reached via online platforms throughout the respective school day schedules.
- Students with an Individualized Education Plan will follow modified lessons provided by their classroom teachers online or otherwise (hard copies, projects, reading, etc.)
- Accommodations for students without Internet access will be addressed on an individual basis.
